¹Issued by Sun Life Financial Trust Inc.

²Insurance GICs are Accumulation Annuities issued by Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada.

³Our suite of Payout Annuities also includes Term Certain Annuities, which provide guaranteed income for a specified period of time (vs. a Life Annuity's lifetime income).

⁴For the length of the term.

⁵Provided income or withdrawal thresholds are not exceeded.

⁶Some mutual funds pay a fixed but not guaranteed monthly distribution. If the distributions paid by a fund are greater than the performance of the fund, the Client's original investment will be depleted through return of capital.

⁷Contracts/policies held in a RRIF registration type offer investment terms up to 25 years.

⁸Dependant on future interest rates.

⁹Provided indexing is selected.

¹⁰Provided income is deferred by the Client.

¹¹Income can be withdrawn in any amount and over any duration, to the market value of the account.

¹²An ongoing income stream can be generated using Series T fund options or by setting up a SWP where you select the amount the Client needs. If market conditions are favourable and the principal grows, there's the possibility a Series T fund will distribute a higher amount or a SWP could be adjusted to provide more income.

¹³Accumulated value is paid to beneficiaries on registered contracts.

¹⁴Provided that a guaranteed period has been selected and a beneficiary has been named.

¹⁵The product has a 75% death benefit.

*Mutual fund investors can set up systematic withdrawal plans (SWPs) or purchase Series T mutual funds that can provide monthly distributions, which are not guaranteed and can deplete original capital. Additionally, investors in Investment or Estate Series can at any time move assets into Income Series to turn on lifetime guaranteed income.
